Unauthorized use of Official Letter Head by students

The Office of the Registrar would like to emphasise to students on the use of official branding and templates in information dissemination and communication relating to student groups, associations events or stakeholders. Student(s) may be held accountable for any unauthorized use of the letterhead. The Official letterhead is only used for formal communication and emphasizes formality and credibility to the information held within ONLY by the Office of the Registrar. Should you need the support of the office of the registrar in any way, you are encouraged to reach out to us by email or visit our office for advice. In all we do, we are committed to be of service towards your integral human development.

We hope this clarifies any uncertainties you may have and wish you a successful semester one of studies.

Thank you
